Report. The editor of the Indiana Journal has the hardihood to deny the statement, which he says is going the rounds of the eastern papers, that a resolution passed the Senate of Indiana, at its late session, inviting Gen. Taylor to visit the State and requesting him to correct his report of the Battle of Buena Vista, so far as the 2d Indiana regiment is concerned.

Such a resolution did pass that body. It was intreduced by Captain Rousseau, a whig elector, and when it came up on its second reading-Mr. Rousseau said, in substance, that his object in introducing these resolutions was not to make political capital for Gen. Taylor or for any political party, and he hoped the question on their passage would not be considered a party question, but would pass by a unanimous vote of the Senate. The object of these resolutions was to pay a merited tribute to the gallant services and heroic conduct of General Taylor for the last forty years of his life; and while a vote of thanks was returned for these services, at the same time to remind him that injustice had, in his official report, been done to a portion of the citizens of our State, who had gallantly sustained her honor on the battle-field of Buena Vista, and to ask him to set the 2d Indiana regiment right before the world. He did not, however, intend to discuss the question at this time and consume time uselessly.

The debate was continued by Mr. Barbour, when

Mr. Morrison offered the following amendment: Resolved, That great injustice has been done to the character of the State of Indiana, by the official report of Gen. Taylor of the battle of Buena Vista, and that the errors therein stated have been made known to him and acknowledged in private conversation, and we call upon him to reiterate or acknowledge the error.

Mr. Rousseau said the amendment proposed to accomplish the same thing as the original resolution, the difference as it suggested itself to his mind was simply that one was clothed in the courteous language that should be used in addressing Gen. Taylor, and the other in language coarse and undignified, and calculated to wound his feelings. He would go as far as any man to sustain the character of Indiana and her troops at Buena Vista; he was one who was a personal sufferer by that report, having belonged to the 2d regiment. He had felt deeply wounded by that

Mr. Morrison's amendment was laid upon the table. The resolution was subsequently engrossed by a vote of ayes 27, noes 13.

We have extracted Mr. Rousseau's remarks from our regular report of the proceedings of the Senate, which were published at the time with Mr. R.'s approbation.

MOB AT MEMPHIS .- On the 29th ult., at Memphis, Tenn., an injunction was granted against the President of the Farmers and Merchants Bank of that place, the serving of which was resisted by Mr. Fowlkes. He armed himself, and with some friends, closed the doors of the Bank, and threatened to shoot the first person who endeavored to break in, to serve the writ. The Sheriff proceeded to the Bank, with some negroes with axes, and a large mob gathering to his assistance, the resistance was given up, and the Bank quietly taken possession of.

The officers and others thought it no great harm, under the writ of attachment, merely to take a peep into it in course of their examination, and, on doing so, found several packages of F. & M. notes, amounting in all to something over $46,000. They also found bonds and other papers, the property of the bank. escape from the atmosphere of Washington, to the oure, elevated regions of the adjacent country: not owever, in any direction that you may take, for, on some routes, for miles in succession. I have travelled over land that, if situated in our Indiana, within striking distance of the largest towns, would not sell for enough, under the hammer or otherwise, to pay the taxes: it is so poor that, so far from producing vegitables, grasses, or grains, it is not even strong enough to give growth to timber; you cannot even convert it advantageously into brick; for there is no water, in many places, for miles around, to mix your morter with. But take the stage with me some morning, say about three hours before day-light: ride to Danesville, 22 miles on the Winchester pike, for breakfast; (and such a breakfast! especially for a hungry man, an epicure at that, and a healthy, vigorous hoosier withal !- the land-lady, even at 50 cents, gets the worst of the bargain) and, in about two hours more, reach Leesburg, the county seat, as we say in the west, but, according to the prevailing expression here, the court house of Loudon; where we will be detained for some half an hour, at a house which, landlord and all, we will find the very beau ideal of a mail, shifted our baggage, and amused ourselves for a few minutes at a game of checkers, still progressing between two gentlemen that we had left playing three months previously, and who, give them a little practice, will make first rate players, we proceed but a mile or two until we ascend what, in every respect except in height, is appropriately termed the Cotocton mountain. From this eminence, and as it were without a moment's notice, opens to our view the most magnificent landscape that my eye or fancy ever fed upon-the Cotocton valley, bounded upon the south east by the little mountain of the same name, and on Ohio the north west by the majestic one, not less appropriately called the Blue Ridge. This valley is one that none but a poet (and you know what my pretensions with the heavenly nine are) can describe; at a particular promontory, known as Mount Gilead-from the fact, I presume, that there is a a "physician there," to which my "better half" and myself were conducted on horse back, in August last, by an inteligent and hospitable friend, we looked down upon this valley to such advantage that, we felt it hard fortune to be torn from such an enchanted spot, by the recollection that, if we did not, we would not be able to reach home before dark: the valley was here about fifteen miles wide : our view extended, on either side, some ten or twelve, and must have embraced some hundred or more farms, all remarkably well improved, and all in a most beautiful state of cultivation; and but few of them-(perhaps not one in twenty) occupied by tenants; and, by the bye, this was an important fact, in relation to Virginia free-holders, very different from what my previous information upon the subject had led me to suppose-that all the farms were onwned by a few, who leased them out to tenants: I found, on the contrary, that, as a general thing, the farms in this valley belonged to the men who cultivate them, and that each one bore evidence were exclusively devoted. The face of the country, this pressing enterprising population. although hilly, is not so broken as to prevent cultivation, unless on the sides of the steepest mountains: these lands will take place at Indianapolis on the 1st, it is, for the production of grass and small grains, one was, corn grows and yields tolerably well, but not by any means equal to the White river and Wafor fine crops, fine stock, fine springs, good health, good schools, good morals and hospitality, is it not an intellectual luxury for one to make his escape from such an atmosphere as prevails in the Metropolis; from this city of politics, pretension, mustaches, knowing looks, blank faces, empty expressions, wise

> This particular neighborhood in Virginia, to which I allude, is called the Quaker settlement : why, it is not worth while to say: the name tells for itself. During my periodical visits, I get along upon moral and religious subjects very smoothly: but when politics are introduced,-which, in a partizan sense, is very seldom,-there is an issue on the spot. The more I mingle with friends,-the more I become acquainted with their peculiar manners, habits, and notions, their mode of religious worship, and their discrais: they are all advocates of freedom of thought and freedom of speech; and so too are the democrats; had not been supplanted by the democracy of this country, the friends and the democrats would have been to this day, for this very freedom of speech that both now contend for and enjoy, subject to a fine of a thousand dollars, and imprisonment in the Richmond Penitentiary for three years: no one thinks more deeply, nor expresses himself more freely, in relation to public men and public measures, than the friend; and yet he stands arrayed against that very political party, the ascendency of whose political principles secures to him this inestimable privilege,-and who likes to see him enjoy it, even though it be in opposition to herself: let me not be told, in reply, that this is a trivial point, and not of sufficient importance to create a fellow feeling between friends and democrats: it is based upon a principle that both hold pardiffer a little as to the extent to which this opposition should be carried; but certainly the friend would upon the fact that, if his TETOTALISM had prevailed in 1776, instead of the democrat's TEMPERANCE, where would have been the freedom of thought and freedom of speech, that both now enjoy, and both so highly prize ! Again; if this tetotalism and TEMis the only difference between friends and democrats, is it not very inconsistent in the former to array themselves with the whigs? If it le wrong to be a war man in time of war, is it not still more wrong to be a war man in time of peace? The whigs are the greatest war men in time of peace, that can be found in our country : if any evidence be demanded of this, go in time of peace, on board our vessels of war; go to our navy yards, forts, arsenals, and garrisons, where none will be found but those who have adopted the profession of arms-not for an exigency or a crisis, but for life-and ask every one you meet there, what his politics are: nineteen out of every twenty will tell you they are whigs. This proves that the whigs, as a party, are never opposed to war, except it break

"George the Third came to the throne in 1760. He found the national debt 120 millions; he reigned 700 millions more than at his cession, increasing on the whole period of his reign about £36,000 every day, or twenty-three pounds every minute! At the beginning of his reign the taxes were 6 millions, at his death, he left them at above 60 millions! Taking the national debt at 850 millions, it will weigh very nearly seven thousand tons in sovereigns; it would take a man sixty four years to count it over allowing him to count 50 a minute, and work 12 hours a day; about a table-poonful of mashed boiled potatoes; rub it would load as many wagons as would extend eighty and mix them well together, and then crumble about miles in a direct line, allowing each wagon to carry a third of it, every night at bedtime, about the kitch-

Influenced by this declaration, the orator being a widower, in the prime of life, a demore spinster, about his own age, who had for many months vainly essayed to become the second Mrs. H., gave in her adherence to the total abstinence principle, and then claimed of the astonished rector a fulfilment of his promise to marry her. For the Indiana State Sentinel. Indianapolis and Belfontaine Rail

What a relief to an honest man, is an occasional Road. My former numbers were directed rather to the lo cal than the general character of this road, and to the eral benefits expected to result to the public from the Indianapolis, Corner of Washington and Meridian construction of the work.

The object of these brief articles is rather to state facts for the examination of others, than to amplify on still higher grounds than it has occupied in my previous numbers; and in doing this, I shall not disparage other works in contemplation-for as a citizen of Indianapolis I could wish to see all the railroads spoken of running to or through this place, constructed -my business is to present to the public candidl; and briefly, the character of this work, and its claims to our support, and not to compare it with others.

This is called the Indianapolis and Belfontaine Railroad, and as such, it may seem to the casual reader to be a mere local work, but the moment the eye traces the road and its connections, east, west, north and south, it will be seen how far the title of of the charter falls short of expressing the character Virginia hotel. Having changed stages, changed the of the work. Instead of being a mere local work, it is a link in the line of one of the most extended and profitable railroads in the United States, connecting the Atlantic cities through the northern lakes and railroads with St. Louis, and the great south-west.

Look at the map and you will see that this road. connecting with the lake, and the great eastern railroad at Sandusky, Ohio, will form a part of the line of direct communication between New York and Boston at the east, and St. Louis at the west, through northern Ohio, central Indiana and Illinois, while it will connect with Cincinnati and Madison on the GREAT FIRE.-Soon after 12 o'clock, on Sunday night, or perhaps it was nearer one, our citizens were fertile; and, in favorable seasons, such as the last alarmed by the cry of fire. It was quickly ascertained that the fire was in the steamboat Hendrik Hudson, at Myers' landing. The flames broke out in bash bottoms. It was with considerable difficulty that the clerk of the Gen. Scott, who was sleeping on board at the time, could make his escape, which he did by leaving the greater part of his clothes behind. It is supposed by the captain of the H. H., that a couple of deck hands perished in the flames, and that one man was drowned. In a very short space of time the boat was consumed to the water's edge, which was the fate of the Trenton and Circassian, laying side by side, and that the Hendrik Hudson was insured in the sum of $10,800 75 in the Firemen's and the Columbus In-surance offices; the Trenton was insured for $12,000 three-fourth cents to one dollar.

THE ONLY REMEDY!-HART'S VEGETABLE EX TRACT is an invaluable remedy for Epiteptic Fits or Palling Sickness, Convulsions, Spasins, &c. It is well known that from It has baffled all their skill, and the boasted power of all medicine, and consequently thousands have suffered through a "serable existence, and at last yielded up their lives on the altar of insanity. Physteians of every age have pronounced this disease incurable. The proprietors of the vegetable extract, however, feet no delicacy in preing that it can be cured. They would, therefore, respectfully invite physicians, and all others who are interested, to examine the testimony which is here offered. If it is deception, let it be exposed; but if it is true, then in the name of humanity, no longer let it be said that

Col. Denslow, of Yonkers, New York, states that his daughter has been afflicted with fits for more than nine years, and has been cured by the vegetable extract.

Mrs. J. Bradlev, 115, Orchard street, New York, states that she has been subjects to fits for many years, and has been restored to perfect health, after every other means had failed, by the use of the vegetable

The child of William C. Anderson, North Fourth street, Williamsburgh, aged 20 months, had fits constantly for eight weeks. A conultation of physicians was called, who decided that the case was a ropeless one, and that the child must die. Whist the child was in this dangerous state, Mr. Anderson called at my office, which was in the month of February last, and obtained a bottle of the extract with the accompanying medicines, and administered it to the child, and the result was a perfect restoration of health, which has continued to the ford, Ohio, one of the most eminent physicians in that place Guilfond, Onto, August 17th, 1846. Brother laborer in the cause of Humanity: Dear Sir-It is with no small degree of pleasure that I am enabled to announce to you the complete triumph of your invaluable medicine in cases of Epilepsy. I have prescribed it in four instances in this vicinity, and it has been successful in all. Three of the patients, I trust, have been radically cured. The fourth is rapidly improving, and will, I think, without doubt recover. I am not in the habit of prescribing or recommending patent medicines, but when I see an article which promises so much for the relief of suffering humanity, I feel it my duty to recommend it; and I have no hesitation in saying, that as soon as the taculty are fully acquainted with the real merit of your medicine, they will close their eyes against prejudice, and lend you a helping hand.

I subscribe myself, yours, sincerely, W. L. MONROE, M. D.

To Dr. S. Hart, New York. FITS OF 27 YEARS AND 6 MONTHS CURED BY THE USE OF THIS TRULY WONDERFUL MEDICINE Read the following remarkable case of the son of William Secore. Esq. of Philadelphia, afflicted with epileptic fits 27 years and 6 months After travelling through England, Scotland, Germany and France, consulting the most eminent physicians, and expending for medicine, nedical treatment and advice, three thousand dollars, returned with his son to this country, in November last, without receiving any benefit whatever, and was cured by using Hart's Vegetable Extract.

Mr. Wm. Secore's letter to Drs. Ivans & Hart .- I have spent ove three thousand dollars for medicine and medical attendance. I was advised to take a tour to Europe, which I did. I first visited England, I consulted the most eminent physicians there in respect to his case. They examined him and prescribed accordingly. I remained there three months without perceiving any change for the better, which cost marble stands; also, extra cones and wicks to suit the above. me about two hundred and fifty dellars, pocketed by the physicians, and received and selling unusually low at 11 GRAYDON'S. the most I received was their opinion that my son's case was hopeless and positively incurable. I accordingly left England, and travelled month of November last. I saw your advertisement in one of the N. York papers, and concluded to try Hart's Vegetable Extract, seeing your statements and certificates of so many cures, some of the N. thirty years' standing, and I can assure you that I am not sorry I did so, as by the use of Hart's Vegetable Extract alone, he was restored to perfect health. His reason, which was so far gone as to unfit him for business is entirely restored, with the prospect now before him, of life, health and usefulness. He is now 28 years of age, and 27 years and 6 months of this time has been afflicted with this most dreadful of diseases; but thank God, he is now enjoying good health.

Now, gentlemen, faith without works I don't believe in. To say that I shall be ever grateful to you is one thing, and as I here enclose you one hundred dollars, I have no doubt but you will think this another, and quite a different thing. The debt of gratitude I still owe you; but please accept this amount as interest on the debt in advance. Yours, very respectfully, WILLIAM SECORE. Opinions of the Press.

EPILEPSY.—This disease is considered by all to be the most dreadful that ever afflicted the human race, as its tendency is to insanity, madness and death. With such fearful results as these, who, among its unhappy subjects does not shudder. The most skilful physicians of Europe as well as these of an experience of the control of the c Europe, as well as those of our own country, have pronounced Epilepsy (or falling sickness as it may be termed) incurable. We are happy however, to state to our readers that Drs. Ivans & Hart of this city, by long and tedious research, have discovered the primary cause of this dreadful disease, and also its remedy-a remedy which in most cases low at the cheap cash and trade store of 48 E. HEDDERLY. will in a very short time effect a permanent cure. We speak thus positive, because we have within the last few weeks seen quite a number f persons who have been cured by their remedy; one of which is a man of unquestionable veracity, who stated to us that he had been afflicted with epilepsy in its worst form for nearly 24 years, and had from time to time employed the best medical talent to be found, and all to no purpose, until he piaced himself under the treatment of Drs. I vans & Hart, which was but a few weeks since, and now, says he, "I thank God, i feel that I am a well man. I also feel it my duty to proclaim it to the ends of the earth, that those similarly afflicted, may find

We quote the language used by some that are now under treatment, and others who have been cared. One says, "I have suffered beyond my powers of description, but now I rejoice in the prospect of soon being fully restored, as my health of late has much improved." Another has been afflicted for years with epilepsy, but is now enjoying good health from the Vegetable Extract. Its fame, says he, should and ought to be sounded to the ends of the earth." Another says, "Language is entirely inadequate to express my gratitude to Messrs. Ivans & Hart for having been the means under the blessing of God, of restoring me to the enjoyment of good health after having been afflicted with enjoyment of good health after having been afflicted with enjoyment of good health after having been afflicted with enjoyment of good health after having been afflicted with not that the time is not far distant when thousands who are now tremattack may prove fatal, will find permanent relief and be restored to new life by using this celebrated medicine, HART'S VEGETAALE EXTRACT.—New York True Sun, N.
